

Surplusage. The novelist, was critic work of a literary beginner. As, here," said Mr. Winter, slash- blue pencil through an entire manuscript page, "here is, afant surplusage and surplusage. In what way to these 400 words help your story? "In no way. On the contrary, they hinder, they impede it. These written words are mere surplusage, as so many of our spoken words are mere surplusage. They resemble the useless questions that we ask. "A man stood before a mirror in his room, his face lathered, and an open razor in his hand. "His wife came in. She looked at him and said: "Are you shaving? "The man, a foe to surplusage, replied fiercely: "No! I am blacking the kitchen range. Where are you-out driving or at a malinee?"

A Delicate Complaint. Many delicate complaints have been paid the fair sex by men subtle in speech, but here is one straight from the heart of an illiterate negro who is difficult to excel:

"When I was preaching at Walla Walla, Wash., he says, 'there was no negro preacher in town, and I was often called upon to perform a ceremony among negroes. One afternoon, after I had married a young negro couple, the groom asked the words of the service.' "Oh, well," said I, 'you can pay me whatever you think it is worth to you.' "The negro turned and silently looked at his bride over from head to foot, then slowly rolling up the whites of his eyes to me, said: "Lawd, sah, you has done ruined me for life; you has, fur sure."

Mrs. E. W. Wright, of 172 Main Street, Haverhill, Mass., says: "In 1890 I was suffering so with sharp pains in the small of the back and had such frequent dizzy spells I could scarcely get about the house. The urinary passages were also quite ir-regular. Monthly periods were so distressing I dreaded their approach. This was my condition for four years. Don't say I began with them and three boxes cured me permanently." Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Deceptive Appearance.
In a railroad train, Bishop Brooks of Boston leaned across the aisle and toward an intelligent-looking man, and asked: "What were you going to remark?" "I was not going to remark anything." "But you looked at me, and seemed about to say something to me." "Yes, I am said to be very deceptive that way. I used to say things and make remarks as soon as I thought them. I have often thought I had something to say, and discovered after I had said it, that I ought to have kept my mouth shut."

UNABLE TO WALK.

Terrible Sore on Ankle Caused Awful Suffering—Could Not Sleep—Cured by Cuticura in Six Weeks.

"I had a terrible sore on my ankle, and had not walked for eleven months. I tried nearly everything without any benefit and had a doctor, but he didn't seem to do any good. He said I would have to have my limb taken off, and that I would never walk again. I suffered awfully, and at night I could not sleep at all. I thought there was no rest for me, but as soon as I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment it commenced healing nicely. I rubbed the ankle with warm water and Cuticura Soap, and then applied Cuticura Ointment to the affected part, and laid a cloth over the sore to hold it in place. After two weeks I could walk around in my room real good, and in six weeks I was walking around out of doors. Mrs. Mary Dickerson, Louisa C. H., Va., April 22, 1905."

A Station Without Signals.
There is no chance of a signalman making a mistake at Wansboro Station—the smallest on the Great Western railway—for the simple reason that there are no signals, and, consequently, no signalman. The station is situated on the Wells branch of Somersetshire, between Witham and Cranmore, a structure consisting of a platform about 24 yards long and a small waiting room. In the waiting-room is a fire grate, and on the platform one lamp. No station master, porter, or other staff is kept at Wansboro, the station being under the supervision of the Witham station master, who pays occasional visits to the place to see that everything is in order. In the winter a platelayer makes a fire in the waiting-room, attends to it during the day, and lights the platform lamp when necessary.—London Tit Bits.

ENVIED STORY TELLER'S GIFT.
Made Presence of Mind a Very Secondary Consideration.

C. K. Sober was showing a group of Pennsylvania statesmen over his famous chestnut farm near Shamokin.

"I have been told," said an insurance inspector, "that on a good chestnut farm each tree yields $100 profit."

"That is impossible," said Mr. Sober, laughing. "That is quite impossible. It is such a whooper that it reminds me of life in the west."

"A friend of mine said one cold night before the red-hot stove in a western saloon."

"At the bar a number of tall stories were being told. Every man had an illustration to present of his own bravery or generosity or lotharism. One chap said: 'I was once crossing a long, high, one-track railroad bridge on the ties when I seen a train coming toward me. The bridge was too narrow for me to draw to one side or the other and to jump into the boiling waters below meant certain death. In a flash I grasped the situation and started on a quick run toward the locomotive. When within a few feet of the great machine I concentrated all of my nerve and muscle in one effort and leaped straight up in the air. The terrible loco shot under me and I came down safe and sound on the bridge, preserved from death, but seriously shaken by the descent.'"

"At the conclusion of this tale a groan went up from the assemblage and an old miner with a white beard said bitterly:

"What's the use of presence of mind when a man can lie like that?"

Snuffbox in Her Stocking.
It was a sunny day and several passengers on the ferry boat were sitting on the outside benches. One middle-aged, quietly dressed and obviously respectable woman sat alone. Presently she reached down, pulled up her skirt and drew a small box from out of her stocking. She opened the box and took therefrom a pinch of snuff. This done, she replaced the box in her stocking and fastened her garter. The pungent odor of snuff pervaded the air, but the woman appeared unconcerned to the point of defiance.

"Well!" exclaimed one man to himself or anybody who chanced to hear him. "I wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't seen it!"—New York Press.

Worse Than an Epidemic?
Dr. Heber Jones, to whom the citizens of Memphis recently presented a purse of $10,000 for his care of the quarantine this year, has weathered five epidemics in the city and yet it is recorded that he was "greatly embarrassed" when the leading woman who presented the check kissed him full upon the lips.

UNCONSCIOUS POISONING.
How It Often Happens From Coffee.

"I had no idea," writes a Duluth man, "that it was the coffee I had been drinking all my life that was responsible for the headaches which were growing upon me, for the dyspepsia that no medicines would relieve, and for the acute nervousness which unfitted me not only for work but also for the most ordinary social functions."

"But at last the truth dawned upon me, I forthwith bade the harmful beverage a prompt farewell, ordered in some Postum and began to use it. The good effects of the new food drink were apparent within a very few days. My headaches grew less frequent, and decreased in violence, my stomach grew strong and able to digest my food without distress of any kind, my nervousness has gone and I am able to enjoy life with my neighbors and sleep soundly at night. My physical strength and nerve power have increased so much that I can do double the work I used to do, and I feel no undue fatigue afterwards."

"This improvement set in just as soon as the old coffee poison had so worked out of my system as to allow the food elements in the Postum to get a hold to build me up again. I cheerfully testify that it was Postum and Postum alone that did all this, for when I began to drink it I threw physic to the dogs." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

COMMERCIAL
R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Trade Review says:
"Wholesale business is becoming more active and the volume of shipments is up to the standard for this time of the year. Clothing manufacturers report sales of light weights slightly ahead of last year's and prices are higher, but collections are not up to expectations. The spring season in dry goods has not fully opened, but salesmen on the road are sending in fair orders, and reports from the South indicate that conditions in that section are very favorable."
"The week in boots and shoes has been only moderate, but sales of rubber footwear have been large owing to the inclement weather. Manufacturers of straw hats are very busy, and there is a brisk demand for skirts and shirtings. Owing to the holidays, trade in lumber at wholesale has been quiet, though prices are firm and money easy, and prospects for the current year are exceptionally good. Machinery supply dealers report a good volume of business and collections better than for some time past."
"Furniture factories are fairly busy, with prices unchanged and collections improving. Wholesale trade in drugs and chemicals is improving, though collections are unsatisfactory. The leaf tobacco market is inactive, money is tight and prices high. Manufacturers of harness are doing a brisk business, collections are prompt and values strong."

Antiseptic Remedy For Family and Farm

SLOAN'S LINIMENT KILLS PAIN.

Dr. EARL S. SLOAN, 615 Albany Street, Boston, Mass.

Love for the Old Home.
Mankind is nomadic, and while the sweetest poetry in the language is inspired by the old home, the monumental work in the world has been accomplished in the main by those who leave the parental roof to pursue elsewhere the quest for fortune, fame and high success. Nevertheless, the love for the old home abides. The reunion of those who remain and those who have departed is an occasion that will stir the pulse of any community in which such a soulful event takes place.

The pretty announcement was made by a newspaper in a little New England town which was about to celebrate its old home week that "the Jones boys have arrived and Charles will preach in the Presbyterian church on Sunday." A little wail of news like that revives old times and pays for all the preparation of "old home week."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hetty Green's New Auto.
Mrs. Hetty Green, the richest woman in America, is to purchase an auto, and she will run it herself. Her heart is softened toward all automobilists. She no longer thinks they are devil wagens, run by devils, for devils, says a New York writer. Soon she will spin from bank to bank in her own auto instead of walking. Three rules she has laid down for herself:

"My auto must be the best on the market that can be bought for the least money.

Story of a Medford Warrior.
Capt. James C. D. Clark of the Lawrence Light Guards of Medford, Mass., was a speaker at a recent camp fire of civil and Spanish war veterans, and related the following story:

A Medford man, a quaint character of Irish birth, returned from the civil war with an undisputed record of hard and meritorious service in the army.

The younger generation, hearing of his bravery, tried unsuccessfully to get his own version of his part in the bloody struggle.

One day, finding himself besieged by a number of persistent questioners, the modest warrior consented to speak.

"We'd get up in the mornin' at 5 o'clock," he began, "an' have breakfast. Begin fightin' at 6, knock off at 12. Begin shootin' again at 1, knock off at 6 an' eat supper, an' turn in to sleep. Every day the same old thing; that's all."

Under Arrest, but Unguarded.
While Gen. Brugere, commander of the French army, was under fifteen days' arrest in Paris he was not permitted to leave his quarters on any pretext except to transact official business at the war office, might not wear his sword and could receive no visitors. But in consideration of his high rank no sentry was placed over him.

Let it be remembered that the eyes may be attacked in one case and the stomach in another, while in others it may be kidneys, heart, bowels or general nervous prostration. The remedy is obvious and should be adopted before too late.

Quit coffee if you show incipient disease.

It is easy if one can have well-bolled Postum Food Coffee to serve for the hot morning beverage. The withdrawal of the old kind of coffee that is doing harm and the supply of the elements in the Postum, which Nature uses to rebuild the broken down nerve cells, insures a quick return to the old joy of strength and health, and it's well worth while to be able again to "do things" and feel well.
